

PRINT® SERVICES

Duration: Variable ranging from 1-hour debriefs to full-day workshop option

OVERVIEW

At Reimagine Consulting, we believe the power of a team lies in their ability to understand each other on a deeper level. That's where The Why of You Powered by PRINT® comes in.

This breakthrough model from The Paul Hertz Group goes beyond surface-level personality tests. It enhances understanding of the way people react and how they relate by explaining the "why" behind their behaviour. Why people act as they do, why they make certain choices, why they are attracted to certain things and why they function better in certain situations than others.

Whether you're a leader looking to bring out the best in yourself or your team, or a team member wanting to align more closely with your colleagues, understanding your 'why' will lead to:

- Greater self-awareness and confidence
- The ability to make clearer decisions and play to your natural strengths
- A clear sense of when you're in or out of alignment - mentally, emotionally and professionally

When people understand each other's 'why,' they communicate more effectively, resolve conflicts faster and can work towards a shared vision with renewed energy.
